

DAVIDSON WILL NAME HIS MAN

For The Place Made Vacant By Mr. Barnes' Retirement, When He Gets Ready.

TALK ON SUBJECT IS RIFE TODAY

Appears To Favor Bashford At Present, But Nothing Definite Can Be Learned As To Who Will Receive The Plum.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., July 25.—L. M. Sturdevant, former attorney general and lately the legal advisor of Governor Davidson, is down and out so far as the possibility of his appointment as member of the railroad commission to succeed John Barnes is concerned. Something has happened, but what it is is not yet known. At any rate it is known that Mr. Sturdevant, who three days ago was believed to be the one finally determined upon as the legal member of the commission, is no longer being considered a possibility. It is reported that Governor Davidson had a conference with Sturdevant and intended to make the appointment but that Sturdevant himself stopped it by saying that he could not accept. R. M. Bashford of Madison is still said to be a candidate, but not an eager one because the work of the commissioner to be appointed will require not less than ten hours a day, and Mr. Bashford is not so circumstanced as to render such work attractive, notwithstanding the salary of $5,000 a year. The latest report has it that Governor Davidson is seeking a prominent democrat from the middle or northern part of the state, preferably a Catholic. This report is accompanied with the remark that it would be a good bit of practical politics to favor the democrats with a fine appointment, and that this is an opportunity to do so without offending the republicans, for Mr. Barnes is a democrat. The friends of Senator Hudnall of Superior are not apparently getting much satisfaction out of the governor in behalf of the desired appointment of the Superior man. It is said that two objections are raised to Hudnall: First, that Commissioner Halford Erickson is still claiming his legal residence in Superior and it would not be advisable to select two men on the commission from the same city. The second objection is that Senator Hudnall was opposed to the two-cent fare bill on account of the passage of which John Barnes resigned. The appointment of a successor to Barnes, which three days ago seemed to be a cinch for Sturdevant, is now up in a balloon and so far as indications here go, Governor Davidson is further from reaching a decision than at any time since he received Barnes' letter.

Attorney for Defense in Haywood Trial Defends Simpkins' Flight After Orchard's Arrest.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Boise, Idaho, July 25.—Clarence Darrow, who is having the last word for the defense, resumed his address to the Haywood jury this morning. He took up the defense of Jack Simpkins' flight after the arrest of Harry Orchard.
Darrow confined himself more closely today to a review of the evidence, but throughout his theme there continued to be a strong note of abuse of Orchard and condemnation for the Pinkertons. He rose to even greater heights than yesterday in his assaults upon the existing order of the past and present. Darrow defended the action of Jack Simpkins in disappearing and commended Simpkins for remaining in hiding during the present trial and brought a bold accusation against the jury that he was addressing when he said: "Possibly a year hence every man who has not been hanged can get a fair trial in Boise." Darrow will conclude this afternoon.

MISSOURI EXPRESS COMPANIES PROTEST

Railroad and Warehouse Commissioners Hear Objections to Reduction of Rates.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
St. Louis, Mo., July 25.—The State Board of Railroad and Warehouse Commissioners today began a hearing in this city to give the express companies doing business in Missouri an opportunity to show why the new schedule of rates proposed by the board should not be enforced. The new schedule provides for a general reduction of 25 per cent from the tariff made effective in May, 1905. The earnings of the six express companies doing business in the state last year amounted to more than $1,000,000. They pay to the state a tax of 1 1/2 per cent on their gross earnings in Missouri, which is a smaller per cent than is paid by the insurance companies. Nevertheless the express companies have entered a vigorous objection to the proposed reduction in their charges.

 to the practice of law in Wisconsin.
 In 1884 Senator Gamble married Miss Carrie S. Osborne. He became prominent in the political life of South Dakota during his two years as a member of the state senate. He next went to congress for two terms making a successful congressman and when a successor was needed for Senator Pettigrew in 1901 he was made U. S. senator in January of that year. His home is in Yankton, S. D.

THE CHAUTAUQUA
OPENS TOMORROW

INAUGURAL SESSION AT 2:15
 O'CLOCK—CONCERT AT 2:30.

"BILLY" SUNDAY IN EVENING

Famous Baseball Evangelist Will Deliver Spectacular Lecture on "Amusement."

The third annual session of the Janesville Chautauqua Assembly will

THE HEARNS SISTERS CONCERT CO.

be opened in Mole's Grove at 2:15 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Rev. W.
 A. Goebel, president of the Chautauqua association, will inaugurate the program with an address of welcome.
 At half-past two the Hearns sisters will give a full concert. This organization furnished music for three days of the 1905 chautauqua, and their return is welcomed to all who heard them. These four talented young ladies are excellent and versatile musicians and their programs rendered on various instruments consist of quartets, trios, duets and solos.

Big Attraction at Night
 For tomorrow evening one of the most attractive programs has been arranged. Beginning at seven-thirty o'clock the Hearns Sisters will give a half-hour concert and at eight Rev.
 W. A. Sunday will deliver his noted lecture on "Amusement." "Billy" Sunday was here last year and drew out the largest crowd that ever visited Mole's Grove. No speaker has a more rapid, forceful or spectacular delivery. Sunday is more agile and exerts more energy while on the platform than any other man in the Lacrosse work. He is known the country over as the baseball evangelist for he once played in the field for the Chicago "Cubs" and has not yet forgotten the phraseology of the diamond.

Transportation Arrangements
 Mole's Grove can be reached both by street-car and by boat. Street-cars leave town for the Chautauqua grounds on the hour and half-hour and returning leave the grounds at quarter of and quarter after the hour.
 Several cars will be at the end of the line to accommodate the crowd returning in the evening. Boats will

W. A. SUNDAY

leave the Fourth avenue dock every half hour, the captains of the steamers Columbia and City Bell having arranged a schedule. The water trip will be very entrancing at night, the moon now being full. Both boats and possibly a few launches will be at the Chautauqua dock at the close of each session.

CHAUTAUQUA NOTES

There was a strike among the laborers at the grounds last evening.
 Three students in the Valentine School of Telegraphy demanded that their wages be raised from $2 a day to $2.50. Secretary Reeder refused their request with an admonition that they go back to their keys. Two laborers were secured to take their places this morning. This incident and the difficulty with which Mr.
 Reeder has secured workers shows that the scarcity of labor is not all talk.

The 12x50 auditorium tent is now up and today the stage and seats are being built. A force of men is engaged in this work.

The restaurant tent, which is 40x70 feet, and refreshment booths have been put up and will be opened tomorrow.

One gang of workmen is doing nothing but putting up small tents today.

for there will be a large number of campers. People from all over the county have engaged tents.

 sembly grounds once a day and collected twice. Carrier George Hiller will make the rounds one of his tions. Programs can be secured free.

 There will be a table for the use of press representatives and visitors who desire to write postal cards or letters.

Deliveries of groceries, ice and milk
 will make daily visits to the grounds and campers will have all the conveniences of city life.

Concerning the Friday evening program some was said that the Chautauqua management made Sunday come

EXTREMES OF HUMANITY

Earth's Tallest and Smallest People Exhibited in Barnum & Bailey Circus.

According to all preliminary accounts, those who attend the Barnum & Bailey greatest show on earth, when it exhibits here August 8, will not only see about all there is worth seeing in the line of up-to-date circus acts, but visitors will also be given an opportunity to inspect a large number of interesting incidental features not usually seen with a traveling exhibition of this character.

With the Barnum & Bailey show the menagerie, while forming a great vestibule for the main show, is utilized to exhibit many curious and interesting special features. One writer graphically says: "If one cares to see a remarkable contrast between the tallest man and woman, and the smallest men and women ever created, it can be found in the zoological department of the Barnum & Bailey circus. George Anger, the giant who is the personification of exaggerated humanity, and Rosa Wedstedt, the Finnish giantess, are each nearly eight feet tall, and beside them in strange contrast to their steeple-like proportions are the Gulliver Lilliputians, some of whom are but twenty-four inches high. One thus can see eight feet of perfect humanity towering above twenty-four inches of microscopic man and womanhood, for the troupe of Lilliputians comprises both males and females, and more remarkably still, they are all related. Tom Thumb, while that dwarf alive today,
 would be head and shoulders above these little people, who are all perfectly and symmetrically formed, full of energy, bright, well educated, linguists and highly artistic as well, for their musical and vocal accomplishments are of an exceptionally high order of merit. They are clever comedians, too, and can entertain visitors with a varied exhibition that is both charming and delightful. Two of them, Louis and Isabelle, are acrobats and high-wire artists of marked ability.

To see the giant among this company of human mites is to see one of the strangest sights imaginable and realize the tales of Gulliver and the Lilliputians. Sometimes the giant will slip his finger ring off and pass
 it over the heads of the Lilliputians, where it serves as a bracelet. At another time he will place one of the Lilliputians in his coat-tail pocket, and it is a curious sight to see the head of the little man sticking out between the tails of the big fellow's coat, like a young kangaroo in its mother's pouch. The giant and mid-gets are always the center of interest during the preliminary hour in the menagerie pavilion.

A troupe of clever musicians, who play sweet melodies upon the most curious instruments, and several other special features give particular interest to this part of the big show.
 The zoological collection, with its three giraffes and other curious animals is notably complete, while the circus performance, which takes place in the great hippodrome pavilion, presents 300 performers in a new triple-ring arena performance, a splendid military spectacle, Capt. Rowless's thrilling feats of Ski-Sailing, the Parisian automobile sensation "L'Auto-Bolide," and the "Two Twirls of Terror," in which two reckless bicyclists turn somersaults on their wheels in mid-air.

SINGLE AND MARRIED
MEN OF FULTON CANNOT AGREE ABOUT GAMES

Fulton, Wis., July 24.—"The single men of the village of Fulton and vicinity do not regard the married men's reply to their challenge, as satisfactory. You say you have won two out of three games. We say you have won two out of four and we have won the other two. You do not count the same of two years ago, because some of your good players were not in it.
 Well, there were as many of you in that game as there were of us in the game four years ago, when you beat us. So if you don't count your defeat, we certainly won't ours. The most of the married men are willing to play us again and a few quitters should not stop the game. You claim the pennant, but whoever heard of taking four years to win one? Penants are either won or lost in one season.
 We handed you a lemon on Memorial day and you're afraid we'll do it again. Signed, COMMITTEE."

CONTRACT FOR REMODELING LET;
WORK UNDER WAY

Jefferson School Problem Settled—J.
 P. Cullen Puts Force of Men at Work.

In order not to expend more than the $20,000 appropriated by the council the board of education has decided to scarcely alter the exterior appearance and make but small changes to the interior of the Jefferson school building. The two-story south wing, containing kindergarten room and two recreation rooms, will be built. New heating and plumbing systems will be installed. This means that the absolute needs will be met but the third ward structure will by no means be come a model school building. The contract for constructing this addition and making these alterations has been awarded to John P. Cullen of this city.
 He put a small force of men at work yesterday and within a week will have operations well under way. The contract calls for completion of the building by January 1, 1908.

FUND GROWS DESPITE
WORK OF KICKERS

Business and Professional Men Sign the Lists For the Purchase of the Bears Very Freely.

Despite the work of kickers, the fund for the purchase of the two twin bears at the city hall, continues to grow in proportions. Each evening as the bears appear for their walk people from all over the city come to enjoy their antics. It is an opportunity of procuring the animals for the city by signing the lists for a fund to purchase them and erect a suitable cage and many who believe they will be an addition to the city are signing the papers. They can be found at all the drug stores and the four banks.

LINK AND PIN
TRAIN PULLED OVER
A BROKEN BRIDGE

Engineer Opens Throttle and Jerks
 Illinois Central Freight Over Four Foot Depression in Bridge.

By jerking open the throttle of the engine an Illinois Central northbound freight train was pulled over a four-foot depression in a bridge 20 feet high one mile south of Monticello yesterday morning. As the engine passed onto the bridge the abutment on the south end gave in, letting the engine down four feet, but the engineer with presence of mind threw open the throttle and snaked his train across the bridge with the exception of the rear car, loaded with coal, which broke in two, and the caboose. Some of the train crew, who were riding in the caboose, were thrown to the ceiling of the car as it plunged into the depression in the bridge which was increased as the last car, loaded with coal, struck the trestle. Had the train been going south, instead of north,
 the engine would probably have struck the abutment of the bridge as the south end gave in and the whole train might have plunged over the side of the 20 foot bridge. No one was hurt in the accident. Trains running between Madison and Freeport, Ill., have been transferring passengers at the bridge and will continue doing so until the bridge is repaired, which will probably be tonight.

KICKERS' KOLUM

The Little Bears' Home
 A great many people are expressing themselves regarding the cub bears, and their future home. There must be some misunderstanding about the whole affair.

Beloit papers claim the city has been cut asunder by the question of these "little cub bears." There is not a question but what Janesville will raise enough money for the home of these little cubs. Janesville men are a little bit careful about what kind of bears they contribute to. Perhaps any kind of money can be raised for any kind of bears in Beloit.

Not So in Janesville.
 Stop knocking: the little bears are cute and will amuse thousands of children, anything that we can do to amuse young and old and keep them in Janesville is always a good thing.
 Perhaps, if we would all hustle to make Janesville more beautiful, we might have forty thousand people in our city. Anyway stop knocking.
 A LOVER OF CUB BEARS.

Sunny Sheffield.
 The protest made the other day in our columns against the practice adopted in some London journals of libeling Sheffield on account of its smoke might have gone considerably further. Not only do the returns show that Sheffield is the "Sunny South," so to speak, compared with the metropolis, but eminent men who live in London are in despair over the state of the atmosphere in the latter city.—Sheffield (England) Daily Telegraph.

 the knee so badly that it was ampucalmly smoked his pipe and joked with the doctor. Crowley is well known in Janesville and is a son of Thomas road at Madison.

GIVE NEW DATA FOR
RIVERS AND HARBORS

Many of the South American Republics Making Ready for the Panama Canal.

Washington, D. C., July 25.—Some interesting figures have been compiled here based on the work being undertaken by South American countries in preparing their harbors and waterways against the completion of the Panama canal. Preparation is half the victory in peace as well as in war, and the Latin-Americans are not to be caught napping when the first shovelful of dirt is tossed out of the big ditch by Uncle Sam, and the waters of the Atlantic and Pacific oceans are linked to advance the commerce of the world.

The Argentine republic thus spent on one undertaking the amount the National Rivers & Harbors congress is urging the rich United States to devote annually and scatter over a number of waterway improvement schemes. The request will be brought prominently before the next congress, and the organization is working to increase its membership to include every solid shipping and business interest in the country, so that its appeal
 may be representative of every section and of all classes. Captain J.
 P. Ellis, its secretary and treasurer,
 reports for the Cincinnati that the membership is growing rapidly.

Another big city to the south of the United States is Rio Janeiro, on the harbor of which the government of Brazil is spending $30,000,000. A further expenditure of $25,000,000 is to be made for the improvement of the Amazon river and its tributaries.
 This will open up the interior of a rich country and will mean more to Brazil than anything that the government ever has undertaken.

..Forty Years Ago..

Janesville Daily Gazette, Thursday, July 25, 1867.—Circuit Court.—The sixth of Plato vs. Kanary, and still no end in view.

An Effort To Gull An Old Publisher.—A few days ago a gentleman of this city, who for a number of years was connected with the press, stepped off the cars in returning from a business trip, and was accosted by a boy on the platform with, "Buy a paper, sir, fuller particulars of the death of President Johnson—only one more left." Something in the look of the lad gave the gentleman to infer that he was telling a whopper for the sake of selling his wares. He accordingly declined to purchase and found his suspicion correct. The gentleman afterwards could not see why the boy used this certain influence in his case unless he thought it would be so gratifying in him as to win.

Fire.—This morning about 2 1/2 o'clock a fire was discovered in the brick building on North Main street, owned by Peter Myers and occupied by Stoddard and Smith as a tin-ware factory and store. The alarm sounder brought the fire department and many citizens to the ground at once, but the old reluctance on the part of the citizens to man the brakes, so often shown before, was manifested on this occasion and the fire soon licked the wood work of the building and the stock in it, despite the strenuous efforts of the faithful few who stuck to the brakes for over two hours. The loss on the building cannot be less than $1000 and on the stock fully $2000 upon all of which there was no insurance. It is not clear to us how the fire originated.

OSTRICH DRIVEN TO HARNESS.—Unique Turnout Occasionally Seen in Streets of New York City.

New York.—The ostrich when properly broken to harness makes a remarkably satisfactory steed. Its long legs and characteristic habits of running render it very speedy. Remarkable records for speed and endurance have been made by the ostrich in California, but it has yet to be generally adopted as a motive power in our city streets. The accompanying illustration, however, is reproduced from a photograph of an ostrich in the streets of New York city. The bird was driven about on many crowded thoroughfares without mishap. It even proved to be faster from excitement when in immediate proximity to trolley cars and automobiles than a horse.

AGAIN BRITISH CHAMPION.

May Sutton's Defeat of English Tennis Leader, Mrs. Chambers.

In the all England women's tennis championship singles at Wimbledon recently Miss May Sutton of California defeated Mrs. Chambers, the well known English champion.

Miss Sutton thus won back the title of British champion which she lost last year to Mrs. Chambers, who was then Miss Douglass. Miss Sutton won easily in straight sets of 6-1, 6-4.

The new champion received a remarkable ovation from the crowds in the stands. The band struck up "See the Conquering Hero Comes."

The committee presented to the American girl a huge bouquet of flowers. There were loud calls for a speech, but Miss Sutton was evidently overcome by the warmth with which her victory was greeted, and she was only able to say:

"I have won twice and am going to try to win a third time."

In 1905 she went to England to try for the championship and brought back a record of victories that has seldom been equaled. She went through the tournament without losing a set, and only once or twice during all her matches was there even a doubt about her ability to win from her opponent. She won the challenge round from Miss Douglass, the holder, in straight sets, 6-3, 6-4, a score which about represented the ability of the contending players. The year before she had won the American championship, but in 1903 and 1906 her absence abroad kept her from trying for the American title.

Last year Miss Douglass, who had in the meantime become Mrs. Chambers, got her revenge. She defeated Miss Sutton not only in the all England tournament, but also in the ladies' singles for the north of England championship, which preceded the big match. The defeat in the north of England match was by the score of 7-5, 6-2, and in the national event the Englishwoman won by the score of 6-3, 9-7.

The match, although it was won in straight sets, was a close one and was in doubt up to the very end. It left honors easy between the Englishwoman and the American, however, and it was principally for the purpose of playing Mrs. Chambers a deciding match that Miss Sutton undertook the journey to England this year.

An Important Distinction.

"Do you think America is developing an aristocracy?"

"I strongly suspect it," answered Miss Cayenne. "A great deal of deference is being shown toward people who got their money in trade instead of getting it by graft."—Washington Star.

"But I tell you—"

TEXAS STILL UNHAPPY

Even with the new nine-foot bed-sheets in every hotel and inn (required by the famous Griggs law, just gone into effect) Texas is not entirely happy. Every trust is on the run, but there is a growing feeling that with the trusts all fled the big state of Texas would be a mighty lonesome place. Thus we read in "The Houston Post," says the New York Tribune:

"From talk heard yesterday by 'Post' reporters, it might be stated that, summed up as a whole, the opinion is that if it were possible to enforce this (the Davidson anti-trust) law the people of Texas would be forced to go hungry and naked; they would not have a house to live in; they could not ride in a vehicle, or walk in a street; they could neither smoke nor chew tobacco; they could not work their jaws on chewing gum; if they should get sick they could not purchase medicine; and when they came to die they could not be buried. It would even be impossible to get a drink of water except by the old method of scooping it up with the hands. In a word, the people could do nothing but run naked through the woods, as did their ancestors that Darwin wrote about, and when they died they would lie and rot."

Robinson Crusoe had a nice time of it on his island compared with what would have befallen him if he had got stranded in the trust busting state of Texas. The businessmen are talking of holding mass-meetings and asking for a special session to repeal the anti-trust law and everybody is getting ready to file his bail bonds when the great day comes and all the state of Texas is arrested and thrown into jail.

Attorney General Davidson attempts to soothe this strange unhappiness of Texas, blessed as it is with the most up-to-date legislation of all the states in the union. He says his new law will not put everybody in jail, but only the merchants who act as agents of a trust. No one need go naked or starve or die "unknelt, uncoffined and unknown" in Texas or do any of the other picturesque things mentioned by the gloomy "Houston Post." A merchant may sell trust made goods, but not as an agent. If he has the exclusive right to sell the Boojum Trust's popular articles in Rising Star or Sandy Hill or Honey Grove he goes to jail. If he sells the same articles without that "exclusive right" which is the proud distinction of a country merchant he may hold his head high, be "our leading citizen," and contribute his untainted money to the village church.

But if this is all there is to the famous trust busting law, will anybody be satisfied with it? Will the pure spirits who are working for the moral upbuilding of Texas be content with so many people out of jail? With nearly all of its people out of jail wearing trust clothes and eating trust food like the rest of the world, what is to differentiate Texas from other states whose territory, in the words of the Texas attorney general, "it is the well known purpose of the trusts to convert and expropriate for their greed and exploitation?" With trust goods selling freely in Texas and the usual number of people out of jail, some doubt will inevitably arise whether the trusts are, after all, whipped to a custard. Then the moral is dignation of Texas will again be aroused and there will be an irresistible demand for more jailings, and new and even more stringent anti-trust laws will have to be passed. The trouble with laws that do not put any one in jail is that they do not satisfy the moral yearnings of the righteous. The trouble with laws that do put or promise to put a good many in jail is that they are entirely too personal in their working.

There is one trust left in Texas, if we may believe the state papers, and everybody who is mad because all the other trusts are to be driven out is furious because this trust is left in. This is the barber trust. The recent legislature, which regulated everything sublimely, regulated the barbers and appointed three of them to license the others. This is the barber trust. Says "The Galveston News":

"The same administration that sought to pay its campaign debts by practically turning over to one sort of trusts all the people of Texas to be skinned alive proceeded, immediately after it had thus chartered one trust, to provide that any merchant or anybody else in Texas who happens to buy and sell the goods of any trust shall be arrested and landed in the penitentiary for from two to ten years as a felon."

Skinned alive! Are the razors so dull in Texas? This is a subject that somehow escaped the attention of the omniscient legislature. A special session should be called to enact that all razors shall be kept sharp. This barber law (in the absence of the amendment that we suggest), "the Galveston News" says, "is one of a dozen foolish and dangerous acts of the thirteenth legislature that the fair-minded democratic people of Texas are eager to rebuke and to destroy." And it further exclaims in perfectly heart-rending accents: "O Democracy, Democracy, what deceit is being perpetrated in thy name!"

Why not have a definition of Democracy from Texas? It has got further along in the Bryan sort than any other state in the union.

Janesville golfers are today playing in the state tournament at Madison. They may win and they may be among the defeated, but Janesville has always been noted for the gameness of the men who represent it in athletic contests. Many here remember the old Mutuals when they were in their glory and can vouch for this statement.

Governor Davidson has an opportunity to show rare genius in his appointment of a new member of the state railway commission. If he appoints Hudson he may be able to avoid the rocks of destruction that fringe his course. If not, he will lose valuable allies in his next fight for the Governorship.

So the onion wagons are gone. The council has stopped the smell that offended the purses of the restaurant-keepers. Too bad? If the people had not patronized them and enjoyed their products they would not have existed, but the people have no rights now days.

Bank presidents convicted of misuse of the banks' funds and sentenced to serve terms in penitentiaries do not deserve the pity that is given them. They had their opportunity; they fell by the wayside and now they must suffer.

The Italian laborers who sleep in the box-cars, eat in the open air and work with the pick and shovel demonstrate that while their lot is not the happiest in the world they are contented or they would not do it.

Rock river as a summer resort may be known to fame some day, but at present it is a favorite spot for Janesville people who have learned to appreciate its beauties.

The railways thus far have not made any complaint on the railway rates and the public who enjoy them do not realize what the difference of a half a cent a mile means to the corporations.

Interurban road promoters would do well to look into the state law before trying to promote railroads, no matter through how prosperous a country they will run.

This state railway commission which is now disrupted will fall to the ground as a useless adjunct to the state business organization unless good men are to constitute it.

The new Utility bill is still puzzling the wise lawyers of the state. Certain disputed points will not be decided until the supreme court passes upon them.

If Janesville people want those bears retained for the amusement of the public let them sign the lists at the drugstores and banks placed there for that purpose.

Automobile owners are watching with interest the work on the model roads which are to be built in Rock county.

No matter what part of the country you go, Janesville is mentioned in some way or other. Janesville products go to the furthestmost ends of the country.

Work on the new yards of the North-Western continues. South Janesville is a busy place these days, even if the downtown section does not realize it.

Summer hotel owners bemoaned the late spring, but now they are sorry the weather is so hot or that they do have more rooms to accommodate the overflow.

Persons who watched the eclipse last night as it came off on scheduled time marveled at the scientists who foretold to a minute the time it would occur.

Janesville stands ready to meet any interurban proposition halfway if it will tap the rich country to the north adjacent to Madison.

A wave of crime appears to have followed the hot weather. Janesville courts have never been so filled with cases consecutively as at present.

Janesville is soon to have a new club in existence, the Elks, and from present indications it promises to be very popular.

After the great Nonesuch Bros. circus on July 4th the appearance of the Barnum & Bailey outfit does not cause a ripple.

Janesville can pity the poor cities that have no public parks where people can rest and enjoy themselves.

Madison is treating its hobos with a diet of bread and water for ninety days. How is that for high living?

Janesville is receiving better police protection than it has for years and the people ought to recognize the fact.

This week the Chautauqua begins and promises this year to eclipse any previous effort.

Prices of horseflesh are up. Horses are more in demand than ever.

Madison is overjoyed that a capitol building is to be built.

PRESS COMMENT.

Do They Raise It There?
Sheboygan Journal: Plymouth citizens believe the real devil has appeared "in their midst." Next will come a charge that he came over from Sheboygan.

The Vegetarian Candidate.
Milwaukee Journal: Senator La Follette is being boomed as a vegetarian candidate for president. It won't do. He is too fond of the bone of contention.

In Rock County, Too.
Superior Telegram: The price of farm lands in the eastern states is going upward again after a long period of depression. Farm lands everywhere are increasing rapidly in value.

To "Snuff" Trust Candle.
Saginaw (Mich.) News: Uncle Sam is after the tobacco trust and will try to plug its game and smoke. It out. This ought to make juicy reading unless the octopus shall worm its way out of the difficulty.

Not Even a Ripple at Ripon.
Oshkosh Northwestern: Even the La Follette boomers seem to have decided it is better to wait awhile. At least they are not making much of a stir since they started that first La Follette club at Ripon, which produced scarcely a ripple on the surface of the political pool.

Advertising as Weapon.
La Crosse Leader-Press: Organization and advertising are the weapons to be used by 500,000 American merchants in combating the mail order houses. On advertising the mail order men chiefly depend for their growth, but if fought on their own ground they are helpless.

Is This Editor Married?
Fond du Lac Bulletin: The women of Hudson will engineer the work of making a public park on the water front, but they will generously permit the men to contribute to the cost. The men are in ecstasies over the distinction, it has been so long since they were permitted to pay the bills contracted by the dear creatures.

They Didn't Know Better.
Eau Claire Leader: The Wisconsin legislature on its recent adjournment has drawn more brickbats than bouquets from the critics. It has been called "half-hearted," and a session without backbone, and a lot of things. It has been censured for choice of a senator; and for the last railroad measure. But what's the use? On the whole, the senators and assemblymen put in their time faithfully and tried to do their duty. It was not a one-man session, and time will tell what damage, if any, was done.

A prominent Wisconsin lawyer, widely known for his common sense and integrity, said last year, "There is urgent need of some practical plan of training fairly intelligent women, in ordinary business methods. I have had as clients, scores of women, brought up in comfort, whose fathers, husbands or brothers, have died and left them with some means, but with not enough business training to transact ordinary business with a bank intelligently. They are sometimes ashamed to confess their ignorance, and I have learned to assume that they do not even know how to draw and endorse checks." A number of leading lawyers and bankers corroborated this statement. Acting upon these suggestions, the Correspondence Study Department of the University of Wisconsin started a course in simple business forms and methods. The course is carried on by the Department of Business Administration of the University. It has been strikingly successful. Among the students are two college graduates, both women, one from Colorado and one from Missouri, who wrote, in almost the same words, "I want to learn how to care for my own property."

Many people who can make money do not know how to invest and care for it, and a training in elementary business principles, that can be obtained under honest, intelligent guidance, without much expense, or neighborly criticism or suggestion, is a

His High Estimation of Steam.
Carlyle once startled the English-speaking people into recognition of the value of their great dramatist by suddenly asking the British public which it would rather lose, Shakespeare or India? I thought of that the other day, musing the editor of the Ruder, when I was reading an article on steam navigation. What would the world rather lose, than steam? What? Why, almost everything; our literature, our art, our religions. Nothing we have is so valuable as steam. It is the greatest civilization the world has ever possessed.

"Hydrolithe"
"Hydrolithe" is a new compound of calcium and hydrogen. It gives off its hydrogen when immersed in water, as calcium carbide evolves acetylene, and M. George Jaubert, a French engineer, urges that the new material be adopted as a convenient means for carrying gas to inflate military balloons.

TRUST BUSTING

The most popular man in the hearts of the American people today is President Roosevelt.

Why? Because he stands for the "square deal," to the common people as well as to the corporations.

He takes the side of the people who need things and against the combinations that would take advantage of their needs, to extort undue gains.

These are days when lots of men find it to their profit to combine and raise prices.

In Dentistry, Dr. Richards of Janesville holds aloof from all local combines and maintains his prices on a living, reasonable basis.

One lady recently saved $17 on her dental bill by selecting him to do her dental work.

He does the BEST of work. His prices won't jar you.

VIOLATION OF LAW AT COUNTY JAIL?

Thomas Nash Holds No Barber's License Yet He Performed Tonsorial Feats for Tom Kelly.

Will the state board of barber examiners prosecute Thomas Nash when he is released after serving a ten-day sentence at the county jail? Maybe, yes, and maybe, no! It is alleged that he did violate the law governing the practice of the tonsorial art. He and Frank Grogan were sojourning at the battle when Tom Kelly, a wanderer who was threatened with the D. T.'s, was brought down to keep him company. Kelly had company of his own. They were these gray fellows about half an inch long. Nash and Grogan didn't enjoy their presence and under the direction of Under-Sheriff George Appleby, a campaign of extermination was carried on, soap and water being the weapons. Still Kelly didn't look like a swell club man, so further operations were performed upon him. Nash cut the man's hair and gave him a shave and Kelly has been asked to resign from the Society of the Unwashed.

MOLD FLOURISHING EVEN WITHIN DOORS

Continued Muggy Weather Makes No End of Trouble for Janesville Housekeepers.

If your sleeping room is on the first floor don't put your shoes under the bed. They may get moldy. Many Janesville people have had experience with green mold during the past few days. The continued muggy weather has dampened house furnishings in every part of the city, even on the tops of hills, and this condition together with the heat makes parasites flourish. The fact makes the housewives to the chorus that is singing for dry weather. However, the strength of the troops is found among the farmers. Many have hay cut and all that is lying on the ground is either becoming musty or has been washed so badly that it is ruined. Some have decided not to cut hay until a dry season is assured, preferring to take a chance of losing the entire crop above the risk of losing the crop and the cost of cutting.

WAITING FOR SHOW.

People Say the Ziegler Sales Are Top Notchers.

The fact that so many people have expressed their intention of waiting until the next special sale of the T. J. Ziegler Clothing company before making necessary purchases in the clothing line is very gratifying to the Ziegler company. In view of this fact, Manager Smith has redoubled his efforts to make the coming ten-day sale, which begins next Monday, a record-breaker, and the patrons of the store can be assured that the sale will be replete with money-saving opportunities.

These special sales of the Ziegler store have come to be looked forward to and planned for by the discriminating public, and the fact that the price reductions are on new and up-to-date articles all through the splendid stock has had much to do with their wonderful popularity.

ALLEYS NOT MEANT FOR DUMPING HOLES

Persons Undoing Recent Work of City Health Department Threatened with Prosecution.

Prosecution is threatened those who violate the laws that the city health department is now actively enforcing. By order of Health Commissioner Holt many alleys in Janesville have lately been cleaned by the city. In some localities these byways are being littered again and new dump piles are being started. Such actions are an infraction of the ordinances and will be punished. The prevalence of rain makes the presence of garbage piles more dangerous to the public welfare.

DEAD CISCOES MADE UNBEARABLE STENCH

It Was Necessary to Borrow Hose and Nozzle from Fire Department and Clean Street by Flooding.

Millions of dead ciscoes flies about the intersection of "South River and Pleasant" streets created such a stench today that it was necessary to use hydraulic methods for cleaning the thoroughfares. On Tuesday night the ciscoes invaded the city and the electric arc lamp at this corner was almost hidden by a swarm that settled there. All day yesterday the sun poured down upon the dead insects and with the rain decomposed the bodies. Today complaints were registered by people residing or having business places half a block away. Fireman William Conroy took a lead of hose and nozzle to the hydrant there and with the assistance of Riverside hotel employees flooded the streets and washed the offensive litter into the sewers.

JOKE THAT TWO COULD PLAY.

Farmer Evenged Up Accounts with Young—Would-Be Wit.

Young Stevenson was on his way north to spend the week end with his parents, and felt in a particularly jovial mood. The train in which he was traveling had stopped at a small village. As a farmer who was sauntering up and down the platform came opposite Stevens' compartment, he was asked by the youth if he knew that the Duke of Devonshire was on the train. Immediately the man showed great interest, and said: "No! Is he?" "I think he is not," answered Stevens. "I only asked you if you knew that he was." The farmer said nothing, but continued his walk on the platform. As he came opposite the window again he remarked that this town has been experiencing some excitement. "What is the matter?" asked Stevens. "The authorities wouldn't let some folks bury a woman," replied the farmer. "What was the reason for refusing?" "She wasn't dead," was the laconic reply. And then he strolled away, leaving young Stevens biting his lip.—Judge's Library.

At the Dinner Table.

"Who is that handsome man over there?" "That is Louis XIV." "How absurd! What do you mean?" "Well, his name is Louis, and he is always invited when there happens to be 13 at table."—Translated for Tales from Filigendae Blatter.

Many Saw Eclipse: The sky having cleared after a thunder shower early in the evening, the eclipse of the moon last evening was clearly visible and many Janesville people watched the night orb become shadowed by the earth. A party of young people enjoyed an eclipse party by the river, making the trip in a launch.

Van Etta Farm Brought $13,927: Heffernan Bros. have sold the town of Fulton farm, formerly owned by James Van Etta, to James Murphy for $13,927. This figure is considered a good one and evidences the fact that Rock county farm property is valuable.

Yesterday, Hottest of Year: With the mercury reaching the 94 mark on the thermometer and the atmosphere very humid, yesterday was one of the most uncomfortable of the present summer. Two showers failed to bring relief.

Nine-Pound Baby Girl: A nine-pound baby girl was welcomed yesterday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Heise on Fourth avenue. Mother and child are doing nicely.

Still Another Fire: Another fire occurred at the New Doty Works yesterday. It was discovered by James Riley, engineer at the power-house just across the river. The blaze was small and the fire department soon extinguished it, using only chemicals.

Cut-Rate Contributors.
In a certain parish of Greater New York the rector, while admonishing his flock on Sunday last that the collection basket receipts were steadily growing less, took occasion to declare that "certain parishioners contribute to their means, but others give in keeping with their meanness." He added that in measure such exhibitions of false pretense reminded him of the story told of the Pilgrim fathers upon their arrival at Plymouth Rock: "First they fell upon their knees; then they fell upon the aborigines."

MAY BE ARRESTED FOR INCITING RIOT

MINERS' ORGANIZER AT HIBBING GAVE MURDEROUS ADVICE.

GUARDS FOR WORKMEN

Citizens Sworn In to Protect the Men.
—Mass Meeting, Opposes Methods of the Strikers.

Hibbing, Minn., July 25.—The latest and most sensational rumor connected with the ore strike is that Petrielli, the organizer of the Western Federation of Miners, is to be arrested on a charge of inciting a riot.

It is said that Petrielli, who is managing the strike, was heard to advise the strikers that if the men went back to work in the mines they would be killed.

While this counsel was given the men in the Italian language, it was understood by an officer who is familiar with Italian. If the arrest is made it may bring on a conflict, as a direct defiance of the federation strikers.

The swearing in of special city officers went on until late Tuesday night, and about 100 were enlisted to stand by the men going back to work. Early Wednesday morning the fire bell was rung to bring them together. A number of miners ventured to go back. It was not a large number, but the disposition to return hurts the strikers just as the departure of miners from the district now hurts the operators.

Citizens Oppose Strike.
Tuesday evening there was a mass meeting of Hibbing citizens in the opera house. Martin Hughes made the opening speech, insisting on the right of the men to work if they wished, and to be protected in working. J. J. Cox, president of the town supervisors, presided, and a resolution was carried by a unanimous rising vote that the city take measures to protect the men at work.

People Bitterly Hostile.
Plain language was spoken in an indictment of the Western Federation of Miners and their record at Cripple Creek and in Idaho. The sentiment of the people is bitterly hostile to the strike. They do not hesitate to speak openly against it, and do not seem to entertain any fear of the federation. Young and active men declare they are willing to serve as deputies.

The strikers Tuesday marched nearly 1,000 strong for some two miles through the heat to an open place for a meeting, and listened to addresses from their leaders. Most of the speaking was in foreign languages. The speeches in English counseled abstention from violence.

Emigrants Leave District.
In two days nearly 1,000 miners who have not joined the strike have left for Duluth, the greater number being Italians. They are valuable men, a loss to the district. Others will join the emigrants.

Federation miners to the number of about 1,000 marched from Virginia to Blwabli, closing down the mines on the 14-mile line of march, with the exception of some independent mines, and a great miners' meeting was held there. The miners parading here numbered from 700 to 1,000 from the Hibbing and Chisholm mines.

In many instances operators have given strict orders that no strikers be allowed to come on the property. The number of guards at the different mines in this district is reported not great at each mine, but there is an air of readiness, and the deputies on guard are liberally supplied with arms and ammunition, and are prepared to use them in the event of serious emergency.

JAPAN IS EASY ON KOREA.

New Convention Between the Two Countries Is Concluded.

Tokio, July 25.—Advices dated Seoul say that a new convention between Japan and Korea has been concluded. The text of the convention has not yet been made public, but it is reported to consist of seven articles. Its main feature is that it invests the resident general with complete control of the internal administration of Korea and appoints Japanese officials of the Korean government.

It is reported that the easy compliance of the Korean government with Japan's demands was due to the fact that the terms were much easier than were apprehended. The removal of the deposed emperor of Korea was not included in the demands.

Emil Simon Must Stand Trial.

Potsdam, Germany, July 25.—The magistrates who have investigated the killing of a woman near this city last Wednesday by Emil Simon of New York, while driving an automobile, have decided that Simon must remain in prison to await trial. Simon, according to the Dresden newspapers, made an attempt to escape after the accident and was arrested in Dresden. He will be brought here under a warrant.

"Industrial Home" Is Raided.

G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT PLANS

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR BUSY AT SARATOGA SPRINGS.

Outline of the Week's Program—Great Parade September 11—Candidates for Commander.

Saratoga, N. Y., July 25.—G. A. R. headquarters at Convention hall here are the scene of great activity. Executive Director Frank M. Sterrett, with a large staff of assistants, is engaged in issuing maps of Saratoga Springs, with the formation and route of the parade indicated in red ink and with principal points of interest in the town noted.

The following outline of the program for the encampment has been announced by Col. Sterrett:

Saturday, September 7, Commander-in-Chief R. B. Brown will open headquarters at the United States hotel. The Grand Army posts as they arrive will be quartered at the various hotels and boarding houses. Tuesday, September 10 will be devoted to the welcoming of the chiefs and members of the Grand Army of the Republic. Gov. Hughes has accepted an invitation to be present, and an invitation has been extended to President Roosevelt.

Wednesday, September 11, at two o'clock, has been set for the great parade. The formation will be at Woodlawn park. Line will be formed with the left of the column resting on Broadway, so that in marching into place every command from the right of the column will pass every other command. The march will be one mile and a quarter directly down tree-lined Broadway, affording both the shortest and most comfortable parade the veterans have ever had. Wednesday evening there will be an illustrated "muster" at Convention hall for Grand Army of the Republic men only.

Thursday is the day for business. Beginning at 10 a. m. the G. A. R. will meet at Convention hall; Woman's Relief Corps at First M. B. church; Ladies of the G. A. R. at First Baptist church; Daughters of Veterans at Bethesda Episcopal parish house; Naval Veterans' association at Second Presbyterian church; Ex-union Prisoners at Town hall.

Thursday evening the great camp fire will be held in Convention hall with three minute speeches from representatives from the 45 state departments. The election of officers will take place Thursday afternoon or Friday morning. The business sessions will be concluded Friday. Saturday will be a day of excursions.

Every indication points to a hot fight for office of commander-in-chief. Already several candidates have appeared in the field with a large number of supporters. These are: Gen. Charles G. Burton, of Missouri; Chester Burrows, of New Jersey; Gen. W. T. Wilder, of Tennessee, and Patrick Coney, of Kansas.

IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS.

Don't Mistake the Cause of Your Trouble—A Janesville Citizen
Shows How to Cure Them.

Many people never suspect their kidneys. If suffering from a lame, weak or aching back they think it is only a muscular weakness; when urinary trouble sets in they think it will soon correct itself. And so it is with all the other symptoms of kidney disorders. That is just where the danger lies. You must cure these troubles or they lead to diabetes, or Bright's disease. The best remedy to use is Doan's Kidney Pills. It cures all ills which are caused by weak or diseased kidneys. Janesville people testify to permanent cures.

Mrs. Annie Kohlhoff, of 230 Cherry St., Janesville, Wis., says: "Since using Doan's Kidney Pills some years ago for kidney troubles and backache I have had no hesitation in recommending them to every sufferer I have met. I had used remedy after remedy and tried plasters and did everything I knew of for these complaints, but the trouble grew continually worse, and was fast undermining my general health. About 7 years ago I was in a very bad condition, and it was at that time that I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills and got a box at the Peoples' Drug Co. and began using them. Good results followed quickly and a continued treatment brought me a complete cure. I have never had any kidney trouble since I used Doan's Kidney Pills."

AMERICAN SLANG IN ROME.
Youngster's Expression Touched the Hearts of Wanderers.

The universal spread of American slang is amazing and the globe trotter meets with it in the most unexpected places. Last October two Americans wandering about the Plaza d'Espagna in Rome were accosted by one of the numerous small boys who sell postal card pictures of the Holy city. He held out a sheet of postal cards and offered them for sale, stating the price in Italian. The Americans did not care to buy, and like his guild the continent over, he followed them and became a bit of a nuisance. But he was such a merry eyed little chap they had not the heart to speak harshly to him. At last, however, they felt obliged to say "no" decidedly. It was then that he surprised them and gave them a queer little pull at their American heartstrings, by saying, his black eyes snapping with fun and the magnitude of the achievement: "Skedoo! Skedoo! Twanta-thr-r-ree!" Then he vanished with a burst of laughter. But the sequel was equally interesting. Late that same afternoon the same couple came from the Catacombs into the white glare of the Appian way, five miles from the Piazza d'Espagna. They had hardly stepped into the street before the same wretch was at them again, and when he recognized them he was as amused as they. This time he did not offer them any cards, but simply said: "Skedoo! Skedoo! Twanta-thr-r-ree!" And he got his generous sold, as he knew quite well he would.

Excursion Rates to Continue.

Railways to Grant them in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois.

New York, July 25.—The policy of granting railroad excursion rates for special occasions in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois will be continued. This was decided at a meeting of representatives of the trunk lines concerned Wednesday. Recent legislation in the states mentioned fixed the maximum passenger rate at two cents per mile and it had been thought possible that the railroads would retaliate by making the maximum also the minimum rate, and so abandoning the frequent fall excursions for which a mileage of less than two cents has been charged in past years.

Three Women Inherit Vast Fortune.

Helena, Mont., July 25.—Three young women of this city, the Misses Bertha and Fredrika Volker and Miss Kenton Keppner, have been apprised that after three years' litigation in German courts they have been recognized as the heiresses to the estate of their grandfather, valued at $40,000,000. The young women will go to Germany shortly to claim their fortune.

Held in Slavery 22 Months.

Italians Tell Story of Peonage on a Mississippi Plantation.

St. Louis, July 25.—The story told by Avanzo Amadeo and Guborzi Oindo, Italians, who said they had been held in slavery for 22 months on a Mississippi plantation and had just escaped, caused United States District Attorney Blodgett Wednesday to institute an investigation into the alleged peonage.

According to the story told by the Italians, through an interpreter, there is a peonage colony of 12 Italian families, consisting of 60 persons, on a cotton plantation at Robinsonville, Miss. They declared armed guards prevented any communication with persons outside the plantation, and any letters written were destroyed. Those who attempted to escape were fired upon and after being returned to the plantation were beaten with cowhide whips.

Navy Chaplain to Be Tried.

Washington, July 25.—Chaplain Harry W. Jones of the battleship Minnesota, who has been stationed at Norfolk, Va., is to be tried by court martial on charges of scandalous conduct to the destruction of good morals and falsehood, preferred by the acting secretary of the navy. Under the charge of scandalous conduct there are 17 specifications consisting mainly in allegations of the utterance of worthless checks. Under the falsehood charge it is alleged that Jones misrepresented the facts regarding a note which had been given by him.

Youngster's Expression Touched the Hearts of Wanderers.

The universal spread of American slang is amazing and the globe trotter meets with it in the most unexpected places. Last October two Americans wandering about the Plaza d'Espagna in Rome were accosted by one of the numerous small boys who sell postal card pictures of the Holy city. He held out a sheet of postal cards and offered them for sale, stating the price in Italian. The Americans did not care to buy, and like his guild the continent over, he followed them and became a bit of a nuisance. But he was such a merry eyed little chap they had not the heart to speak harshly to him. At last, however, they felt obliged to say "no" decidedly. It was then that he surprised them and gave them a queer little pull at their American heartstrings, by saying, his black eyes snapping with fun and the magnitude of the achievement: "Skedoo! Skedoo! Twanta-thr-r-ree!" Then he vanished with a burst of laughter. But the sequel was equally interesting. Late that same afternoon the same couple came from the Catacombs into the white glare of the Appian way, five miles from the Piazza d'Espagna. They had hardly stepped into the street before the same wretch was at them again, and when he recognized them he was as amused as they. This time he did not offer them any cards, but simply said: "Skedoo! Skedoo! Twanta-thr-r-ree!" And he got his generous sold, as he knew quite well he would.

THE LION AND THE MOUSE.

By CHARLES KLEIN.

A Story of American Life Novelized From the Play by ARTHUR HORNBLLOW.

COPYRIGHT, 1906, BY G. W. DILLINGHAM COMPANY.

As Stott recognized the well known signature and read the contents the expression of his face changed. He gasped for breath and sank into a chair from sheer astonishment.

"That's different!" he cried.

Briefly Shirley outlined her plan, explaining that she would go to live in the city immediately and conduct her campaign from there. It was successful, it might save her father, and if not she would become of it.

That same evening her mother, the judge and Stott went for a stroll after dinner and left her to take care of the house. They had wanted Shirley to go, too, but she pleaded fatigue. The truth was that she wanted to be alone, so that she could ponder undisturbed over her plans. It was a clear, starlit night, with no moon, and Shirley sat on the porch listening to the chirping of the crickets and idly watching the flashes of the mysterious fireflies. She was in no mood for reading and sat for a long time rocking herself, engrossed in her thoughts. Suddenly she heard some one unfasten the garden gate. It was too soon for the return of the promenaders. It must be a visitor. Through the uncertain penumbra of the garden she discerned approaching a form which looked familiar. Yes, now there was no doubt possible. It was indeed Jefferson Ryder.

She hurried down the porch to greet him. No matter what the father had done, she could never think any the less of the son. He took her hand, and for several moments neither spoke. There are times when silence is more eloquent than speech, and this was one of them. The gentle grip of his big, strong hand expressed more tenderly than any words the sympathy that lay in his heart for the woman he loved. Shirley said quietly:

"You have come at last, Jefferson."

"I came as soon as I could," he replied gently. "I saw father only yesterday."

"You need not tell me what he said," Shirley hastened to say.

Jefferson made no reply. He understood what she meant. He hung his head and hit viciously with his walking stick at the pebbles that lay at his feet. She went on:

"I know everything now. It was foolish of me to think that Mr. Ryder would ever help us."

"I can't help it in any way," blurted out Jefferson. "I have not the slightest influence over him. His business methods I consider disgraceful. You understand that, don't you, Shirley?"

The girl laid her hand on his arm and replied kindly:

"Of course, Jeff, we know that. Come up and sit down."

He followed her on the porch and drew up a rocker beside her.

"They are all out for a walk," she explained.

"I'm glad," he said frankly. "I wanted a quiet talk with you. I did not care to meet any one. My name must be odious to your people."

Both were silent, feeling a certain awkwardness. They seemed to have drifted apart in some way since those delightful days in Paris and on the ship. Then he said:

"I'm going away, but I couldn't go until I saw you."

"You are going away?" exclaimed Shirley surprised.

"Yes," he said. "I cannot stand it any more at home. I had a hot talk with my father yesterday about one thing and another. He and I don't click well together. Besides this matter of your father's impeachment has completely discouraged me. All the wealth in the world could never reconcile me to such methods! I'm ashamed of the role my own flesh and blood has played in that miserable affair. I can't express what

"The Blood is The Life."

Science has never gone beyond the above simple statement of scripture. But it has illuminated that statement and given it a meaning ever broadening with the increasing breadth of knowledge. When the blood is "bad" or impure it is not alone the body which suffers through disease. The brain is also affected, and many an evil deed or impure thought may be directly traced to the impurity of the blood. Pimples, impure blood can be made pure by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It enriches and purifies the blood, thereby curing, pimples, blotches, eruptions and other cutaneous affections, as eczema, tetor, or salt-rheum, hives and other manifestations of impure blood.

In the cure of scrofulous swellings, enlarged glands, open eating ulcers, or old sores, the "Golden Medical Discovery" has performed the most marvelous cures. In cases of old sores, or open eating ulcers, it is well to apply the open sores Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve, which possesses wonderful healing potency when used as an application to the sores in conjunction with the use of "Golden Medical Discovery" as a blood cleansing constitutional treatment. If your druggist don't happen to have the "All-Healing Salve" in stock, you can easily procure it by inclosing fifty-four cents in postage stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, 603 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post. Most druggists keep it as well as the "Golden Medical Discovery."

You can't afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery," which is a medicine of known composition, having a complete list of ingredients in plain English on its bottle-wrapper, the same being attested as correct under oath.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels.

As Stott recognized the well known signature and read the contents the expression of his face changed. He gasped for breath and sank into a chair from sheer astonishment.

"That's different!" he cried.

Briefly Shirley outlined her plan, explaining that she would go to live in the city immediately and conduct her campaign from there. It was successful, it might save her father, and if not she would become of it.

That same evening her mother, the judge and Stott went for a stroll after dinner and left her to take care of the house. They had wanted Shirley to go, too, but she pleaded fatigue. The truth was that she wanted to be alone, so that she could ponder undisturbed over her plans. It was a clear, starlit night, with no moon, and Shirley sat on the porch listening to the chirping of the crickets and idly watching the flashes of the mysterious fireflies. She was in no mood for reading and sat for a long time rocking herself, engrossed in her thoughts. Suddenly she heard some one unfasten the garden gate. It was too soon for the return of the promenaders. It must be a visitor. Through the uncertain penumbra of the garden she discerned approaching a form which looked familiar. Yes, now there was no doubt possible. It was indeed Jefferson Ryder.

I feel about it. But what are you going to do?" he asked. "These surroundings are not for you." He looked around at the cheap furnishings which he could see through the open window, and his face showed real concern.

"I shall teach or write, or go out as governess," replied Shirley, with a tinge of bitterness. Then smiling sadly she added: "Poverty is easy. It is unbecoming disgrace which is hard."

The young man drew his chair closer and took hold of the hand that lay in her lap. She made no resistance.

"Shirley," he said, "do you remember that talk we had on the ship? I asked you to be my wife. You led me to believe that you were not indifferent to me. I ask you again to marry me. Give me the right to take care of you and yours. I am the son of the world's richest man, but I don't want his money. I have earned a competence of my own—enough to live on comfortably. We will go away where you and your father and mother will make their home with us. Do not let the sins of the fathers embitter the lives of the children."

"Mine has not slipped," said Shirley bitterly.

"I wish I could say the same of mine," replied Jefferson. "It is because the clouds are dark about you that I want to come into your life to comfort you."

"The girl shook her head.

"No, Jefferson, the circumstances make such a marriage impossible. Your family and everybody else would say that I had inveigled you into it. It is even more impossible now than I thought it was when I spoke to you on the ship."

Emotion stopped her utterance, and she buried her face in her hands, weeping silently.

"Shirley," said Jefferson tenderly, "you are wrong. If you will not say 'Yes' now, I shall go away as I told my father I would, and one day I shall come back and then if you are still single I shall ask you again to be my wife."

"You may not want me then."

"I shall always want you," he whispered hoarsely, bending over her. In the dim light of the porch he saw that her tear stained face was drawn and pale. He rose and held out his hand.

"Goodbye," he said simply.

"Goodbye, Jefferson." She rose and put her hand in his. "We will always be friends."

He raised her hand to his lips.

"Goodbye, Shirley. Don't forget me. I shall come back for you."

He went down the porch, and she watched him go out of the gate and down the road until she could see his figure no longer. Then she turned back and sank into her chair, and burying her face in her handkerchief, she gave way to a torrent of tears which afforded some relief to the weight on her heart. Presently the others returned from their walk, and she told them about the visitor.

"Mr. Ryder's son, Jefferson, was here. We crossed on the same ship. I introduced him to Judge Stott on the dock."

The judge looked surprised, but he merely said:

"I hope for his sake that he is a different man from his father."

"He is," replied Shirley simply, and nothing more was said.

Two days went by, during which Shirley went on completing the preparations for her visit to New York.

It was arranged that Stott should escort her to the city. Shortly before they started for the train a letter arrived for Shirley. Like the first one, it had been forwarded by her publishers. It read as follows:

Dear Shirley Green:

I shall be happy to see you at my residence—Fifth avenue—any afternoon that you will mention. Yours very truly,

JOHN BURKETT RYDER.

Per B.

Shirley smiled in triumph as, moved by her father and mother, she passed it over to Stott. She at once sat down and wrote this reply:

Mr. John Burkett Ryder:

Dear Sir—I am sorry that I am unable to comply with your request. I prefer the invitation to call at your private residence should come from Mrs. Ryder. Yours, etc.

SHIRLEY GREEN.

She laughed as she showed this to Stott.

"He'll write me again," she said, "and next time his wife will sign the letter."

An hour later she left Massapequa for the city.

Miss Margaret Hanna, "the woman diplomat," who accompanies the American delegation to the peace conference at The Hague, has accomplishments of an unusual character for a member of her sex. She is an adept in international law, writes and speaks Spanish, French and German and several other languages. Miss Hanna is the daughter of Edwin P. Hanna, solicitor of the

She is an expert stenographer and was employed in such a capacity with the arbitration commission which settled the differences between Venezuela and European powers. She is one of the secretaries of the delegation to the conference.

VIOLENT STORM HITS PITTSBURG

GREAT DAMAGE DONE AND MANY RAILWAY WASH-OUTS.

LIGHTNING AT A RESORT

Twenty Cottagers at Valley Camp Stunned—Cloudburst at Wheeling—One Man Is Drowned.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 25.—With a gale blowing almost 50 miles an hour a storm broke over this city and vicinity Wednesday night that broke all records for precipitation, and terrified residents with the sharp flashes of lightning and the almost deafening peals of thunder.

Thousands of dollars of damage has been done to street railways by the washing out of tracks, and the land-slides among the billy sections of the country buried many tracks that will take hours to unearth. From all sections of the county reports of great damage by washouts and lightning are coming in.

Lightning Stuns Cottagers.

At Valley camp, a summer resort near this city, the residence of Col. W. C. Connelly, of this city, was struck by lightning and 20 cottagers of the camp assembled in the dwelling were stunned. The upper story of the building caught fire, but the blaze was extinguished by a bucket brigade.

In the East End section of this city trolley, telephone and telegraph wires were torn down and lay about the streets, necessitating an extra force of men to warn pedestrians of danger.

The precipitation as registered at the local weather bureau was .39 which fell within 30 minutes. The storm broke from the northwest and moved off down the Ohio valley.

Wheeling Also Is Hit.

Wheeling, W. Va., July 25.—A cloudburst that broke over this city Wednesday night inflicted damage aggregating thousands of dollars. One life was lost, that of Lee Prettinman, a teamster, who was drowned while trying to get his horse away from a rush of water in the southern section of the city. His body was not recovered.

All traffic on the trolley lines was suspended, bridges on all roads were washed away and in the city the streets of the business section were flooded.

Car Windows Broken by Hail.

Grand Forks, N. D., July 25.—Hailstorms occurred in Grand Forks county, N. D., and in Polk county, Minn., late Tuesday afternoon, doing extensive damage to crops. The Great Northern Langdon line train was just passing on its way to Grand Forks, and 48 windows in the coaches were broken. Passengers describe the hail stones as large chunks of ice, which covered the ground in places until it was white.

On the farm of Louis Blanchet the hail drifted until it was six inches deep. The Norwegian Lutheran church northwest of Niagara was blown off its foundation.

AMERICAN FLAG ORDERED DOWN.

Ottawa Citizens Object to Stars and Stripes on City Hall.

Ottawa, Ont., July 25.—There were one or two American flags put here at the city hall with the union jack and other decorations in connection with a carnival. A committee of citizens has ordered the stars and stripes removed.

The reception committee thought it best to do this rather than have any trouble over the matter.

Russians to Explore Tibet.

St. Petersburg, July 25.—The Imperial Geographical society has decided to send an expedition to Tibet under the leadership of the famous explorer Kozloff.

The Real Value

If you have headache or neuralgia you want relief; want it quick. Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills stop the pain in just a few minutes. But their real value lies in the fact that they leave no bad after effects. They do not create nausea or derange the stomach. Nothing can therefore take the place of Anti-Pain Pills for the relief of headache or other pain.

"Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills do all that is claimed for them in curing headache and neuralgia. I was in Farmington and I had a fearful headache; the gentleman of the house said, 'Take one of my wife's Pain Pills,' and I did, and in less than one-half hour I felt as well as ever. I asked the name of these and he said 'Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills.' I purchased a box, and told my family I had found a great prize—something to cure headache. My three daughters also used them. A thousand thanks for such a remedy."

PECULIAR STATE OF AFFAIRS IN KERISOVA, HUNGARY.

Male Adults All Come to America, and Women Fill Offices, Contrary to Law.

Budapest, July 25.—The lure of the United States as a land of opportunity and wealth to the people of Hungary has occasioned a curious state of affairs in the little village of Kerisova, near Lugos, that at the last census had a population of 3,500 souls.

One by one the male residents of Kerisova heard the call across the water, and they emigrated in batches until the mayor was the only adult male to remain by the village. Finally he also succumbed to the reports of good wages and golden chances in America sent back by his fellow townsmen and, packing his trunk, made his way to the emigrant ship at Fiume.

As a result of this exodus of males the women of Kerisova have just elected a young woman to the position of mayor, and other female residents have been elected to fill the remainder of the municipal offices. The statutes in Hungary provide that no female shall hold public office and, according to the letter of the law, the presence of the women in office is illegal.

PROF. NEWCOMB INSULTED.

Unpleasant Incident at San Francisco Industrial Conference.

San Francisco, July 25.—Prof. Simon Newcomb, the renowned scientist and director of astronomy at Annapolis, was offended at the industrial peace conference Wednesday by Hugh Craig, a well known insurance man, member of the Merchants' Exchange, and delegate to the conference.

Prof. Newcomb occupied a chair on the platform, after delivering his address on the economic need. He listened with much interest to the views of George Renner of the Draymen's association, who succeeded him among the speakers. Then Craig got the floor.

"Mr. Chairman," he said, "I think too much of the time of this conference has been given to listening to long, tiresome essays. I believe we would do much better to hear discussion from practical men like Mr. Renner."

Craig's remarks were greeted with laces and cries of "Call him to order."

Prof. Newcomb was quick to catch the personal tone in Craig's remarks. He arose hastily, shook hands with the few men on the platform and walked out of the convention.

TROLLEY CARS IN COLLISION.

Three Persons Dangerously Injured in Accident at Elyria, O.

Elyria, O., July 25.—In a head-on collision between two traction cars on the Cleveland & Southwestern line Wednesday afternoon three persons were seriously and probably fatally injured and a score of others received injuries of a minor nature.

The most seriously injured were taken to the Elyria hospital. They are Mrs. Joseph Crane, Mrs. K. J. Washburn and F. J. Gibson, all of Oberlin.

Sloop-of-War Marion Sailed.

Washington, July 25.—Acting Secretary Newberry Wednesday accepted the bid of C. E. Boudrow of San Francisco, who offered $9,200 for the old wooden sloop-of-war Marion, now lying at the navy yard, Mare Island and recently stricken from the naval register as unfit for naval purposes. The Marion was built by the government in 1871-1875.

Strike at Elkhart Is Over.

Cleveland, O., July 25.—Complete adjustment of the differences between the Lake Shore railroad and the striking union boilermakers employed at the Elkhart, Ind., works of the company has been made and the men will return to work Thursday.

ALWAYS TRUST THE GIRLS.

Stenographers Will Spurn Bribes Rather Than Betray Secrets.

Not long ago a Kansas City stenographer learned that the railroad for which she was working had determined to extend its line. She had a friend living in the town through which the line was to run. A letter to him, with her savings, would have enabled him to buy at a low price the land the road needed, and the peculiar nature of the ground in that neighborhood would have enabled him to sell at a great profit.

She did not consider the thing more than a minute, and then decided that it would be a dishonorable thing to do. Another stenographer in a large real estate office became aware of a deal in which $150,000 was involved. Certain information she possessed would be worth thousands to the other parties. They made a few advances and hinted at rewards as high as $5,000 for her betrayal of her firm. She indignantly refused, and told her employers of the scheme. Another stenographer was offered $1,000 for copies of three letters which she had written. A lawsuit in which her employers were involved might have gone against them had the opposing party been able to secure the information contained in the three letters. The lawyer for the other side laid ten $100 bills on her mother's table and told her they were hers for the permission to read the letters. The girl scorned the offer.

The Congregation.

There is a tiny church near the foot of one of the Western Gramplians which has a congregation numbering, in the best of weather, not more than 20 people. On stormy days the number is much less; as members have to travel considerable distances. A tour last happened to come across this church early one Sunday afternoon. He listened for a bit, but heard no sound, so went to the door of the church and looked in. The beadle was the only occupant. "Is the service over?" he asked. "Oh, ay, she will be over," replied the old man. "Then, where is the congregation?" asked the tourist. The beadle slowly pointed through the open door to a man wending his way down a hill and said, "That's him."

Tock Six Years to Make.

Six years, 540 yards of duchess silk lace, 400 yards of silk thread, and an infinite amount of patience were consumed by Miss Amelia M. Redel, of Marshalltown, Ia., in making a black lace dress. Miss Redel conceived the idea of a hand-made lace dress six years ago, and immediately set to work to carry out that idea. She has just finished her task. The waist and skirt each are in one piece. The design was worked out over a foundation of cambric.

THIRD AND LAST.

It Is Predicted Dan Hanna's Next Wife Will Be His Final Choice.

"Three times and out" is the old baseball rule, and if it applies in his case Dan R. Hanna, son of the late Senator Hanna, has been divorced for the last time. Mr. Hanna's first matrimonial venture was with Miss May Harrington, with whom he eloped in 1887, marrying her in Escanaba, Mich. This was before either was of age. Ten years later the first Mrs. Hanna obtained a divorce from him, gaining the custody of the three children. Her flight to Europe to prevent her former husband obtaining the children and her final success in making an agreement with him to let her live in peace with them in this country formed an episode that attracted much attention at the time. Mr. Hanna in 1900 married Mrs.

He is an amateur pyrograph cartoonist and during his confinement at Boise has whiled away the hours by drawing pictures of the "gun fighters" of Colorado who have attended the prosecution. He labels these "Desirable Citizens," and signs himself "An Undesirable Artist." He has burned the figures of Detective McFarland and ex-Governor Penbody on wood and has also made a pyrograph cartoon of Deputy Sheriff Bob Meldrum of Telluride, Colo. Meldrum is a small but nervy Scotchman, and he has four notches on his stick. Though these souvenirs of encounters which proved fatal to his opponents have given him a reputation as a man not to be trifled with, the Boise authorities seem not to have been afraid of him, as he has been arrested for creating disturbances since the Haywood trial began and has been fined $100.

According to Orchard's testimony, it was at Pettibone's store in Denver that many of the crimes laid at the door of the federation officials were planned. He was formerly a member of the executive committee of the Western Federation of Miners and was a leader in the miners' strike in the Coeur d'Alenes. He is married, and his wife has frequently visited him since he has been in confinement at Boise.
